Abstract:
In this talk we will discuss a recent application of lattice basis reduction to the computational integer knapsack problem. We obtain a LLL-based polynomial time algorithm that solves the problem subject to a geometric constraint.